About Flexiglass - The original canopy brand since 1949

Flexiglass commenced in Western Australia in 1949 when Harry Robins saw the first Holden car and identified the need for a station wagon.

Harry created his first canopy using a steam bent timber frame and sheet metal panels. It was an outstanding success and he was soon making a range of designs from aluminium sheeting with side sliding windows. This innovative canopy featured laminated glass and an interior dome light.

This was just the beginning for Harry. In 1956 he designed the first ever fiberglass canopy. This canopy was years ahead of its time and featured many similarities to today's canopies. In 1959 Harry diversified into the fiberglass boat building business and together with his two sons created the foundations of today's Flexiglass.

Together they designed and perfected a new system of fiberglass that they called "FLEXIGLASS". Unlike the ridged canopies of the time, it was extremely lightweight and flexible.

Why Flexiglass - Even more reasons

Experience

Over 80 years in the Australian Market

Having "pioneered" the first commercially recognised canopy in 1949, Flexiglass are the oldest and longest serving canopy supplier. Always at the forefront of design and technology, with a range of products to suit most applications, Flexiglass truly are the canopy specialist.

Expertise

In-depth product knowledge

Comprehensive market knowledge backed by years of industry experience and professional qualified staff, the Flexiglass team can supply the most efficient and accurate information relating to products and requirements.

Assurance

Comprehensive two-year 40,000k warranty

Flexiglass guarantee and support all products with an industry leading two-year, 40,000 kilometer warranty on major product lines. This provides customers peace of mind while on the work site or hitting the local beaches.

Comprehensive Range - Canopies, trays and everything in-between

Here at Flexiglass we understand that after purchasing a dual, extra or single cab ute, potentially the next biggest decision you make is which canopy, tray, lid or service body to choose.

Let's face it, this purchase will become anywhere from about one quarter up to almost half of your vehicle depending on your setup - so why settle for anything less than the best!

We have developed a vast range of canopy and tray options and we are also continuously expanding our product offering through development and product partnerships.

This allows us to offer the most comprehensive range of canopy and ute tray complementary products, so you can complete your vehicle setup for work or play.

National Network - Local support

With dedicated branches nationwide, Flexiglass is able to provide support to the large number of dealers, resellers and end users across the country. The home of Flexiglass is changing nationally with the brand becoming part of the Aeroklas Fitment Centres.

These new fitment centres are a culmination of recognisable automotive brands Aeroklas, Flexiglass and Bocar with roots stretching as far back as 1949 and brings together over 150 years of aftermarket auto accessories innovation experience.

Service

Experienced sales staff

Utilising our core product range and product partnerships, Flexiglass branches and Aeroklas fitment centres are your one-stop-shop for fitting out your vehicle for work or play.

Supply

Distribution centres

Flexiglass is able to provide complete solutions and ongoing support to vehicle fleets or a one off fit-out of your recreational vehicle. Our core product ranges are stock nationally for fast turn around time.

Fitting

Experienced fitters

Our experienced fitters are provided end-to-end training on fitting all products supplied. From complete multi-vehicle fleet fitouts to a single switch installation, no job is too big or small.
